Message for MSEAS-2024 Placeholder Presenters

September 26, 2023

Dear formerly confirmed presenters of MSEAS-2020,

MSEAS is back! Since MSEAS-2020 was unfortunately cancelled at the last minute, we know you have been waiting for this and we are working hard and making plans for our next MSEAS which will take place in Yokohama, Japan from 3-7 June 2024 (MSEAS-2024).

We are pleased to announce all sessions except S11 planned four years ago have been updated (full list of Sessions) and the call for abstracts will open on October 1. As your abstract was once accepted, you are considered to have a placeholder for MSEAS-2024. With rapid progress in the MSEAS study areas and possible changes in your working circumstances during these years, we would like to confirm your interest in presenting your talk/poster at MSEAS-2024. Should you be interested in this option, please re-submit an updated version of your abstract to the same Session that you were previously assigned through the meeting website by November 15. If you were a presenter of S11, please re-submit your abstract to a session which best fits your study. Please note, although general submission for a limited number of new abstracts will be open until November 30, you will lose your placeholder status after November 15. To re-submit your abstract, you need to register your attendance at MSEAS-2024 through the meeting website. Please ask any questions to Session Convenors (see each Session information from here) or MSEAS Organizers.

We hope you can join MSEAS-2024 and look forward to celebrating the long-awaited reunion of our wonderful MSEAS community.

Kind regards,

MSEAS-2024 Organizers
